

Application Instructions for Transtibial Shrinker

An elastic stockinette or beige Compressogrip is applied to the residual limb. It is pulled on to the thigh above the knee cap by 3-4 inches and marked with a line at the end of the residual limb. It is then twisted snugly about 90 degrees and reflected back up towards the knee cap. It should end just below the knee cap.

If you should have any problems or questions regarding the proper application of the transtibial shrinker, please call American Orthopedics at 614-291-6454.
